Egri Bikaver Bulls Blood

The best known Hungarian red wine; a blend of three grape varieties, Kadarka, Medoc Noir and Burgundi, grown in the Eger hills. The winery processes only perfect ripe mature black grapes, which are then fermented in the traditional way. Aging in oak barrels adds complexity and rounds and smoothes out the wine to its state of elegance. Dark granite-red color and lots of well-balanced ripe varietal flavors are an enjoyable accompaniment to “de luxe” meals.

Marika Balatoni Pinot Gris

A pleasant, charmingly fruity wine with a hint of ripe apple and litchi flavors, finely balanced.

Marika Debroi Harslevelu

Quality semi sweet white wine. One of the best-known white wines of the Eger wine-growing region; this variety grown in a dry climate and exhibiting a lime-blossom honey aroma and flavor deserves the popularity it has gained.

Tokaji Szamorodni Dry

Dominated by rich and complex flavors reminiscent of raisins, honey and apricot, complemented by the taste of walnuts; it has a well developed bouquet with playful acids. Enjoy as an aperitif or with the finest patee, cheese, or pastry.

Tokaji Szamorodni Sweet

Made from 90% “Furmint” and 10% “Harslevelu” grapes from eastern Hungary this wine captures both the taste of the classic Tokaji Furmint wine and that of the “aszu” grapes. It is dominated by rich and complex flavors reminiscent of raisins, honey, sweet almonds and apricot. It has a fine balance between its 5 % residual sugar and bright and playful acids. Enjoy with fish and white meat dishes as well as cheese or desserts after a fine meal.
